The same remarkable 'LASER BEAM' WATCH that took America by storm!

A famous multi-million dollar American watch company advertised the "LASER BEAM" on T.V. in the States from coast to coast. They were absolutely astounded by the response. The president of the company said "... these are without a doubt the most popular and fastest selling watches we have ever marketed. The American public just love the latest technological wizardry and at these prices, who can blame them. We believe the LASER BEAM is destined to become the most talked-about wristwatch in history".

Now "LASER BEAM" watches are available in this country at the "GIVEAWAY" price of only £5 + p&p. They will not be sold at this or any other price by us in any store. There will be a limit of two per address but if your request is posted within 21 days you may order up to seven. Every watch is covered by the company's full 60 day money back guarantee. This does not affect your statutory rights. Please allow 28 days delivery.

Nice Little Learner

Next month sees the start of a brand new cable TV channel dedicated exclusively to learning.

Learning Television, or LTV as it will be known, is the UK's first TV Channel to focus on learning for pleasure, training for work and broadening educational experience.

Backed by Encyclopaedia

Britannica, Yorkshire Television and Coventry Cable Television, LTV will broadcast six hours a day to begin with, boasting some of the best educational, documentary and non-fiction programming ever made.

It will appeal to everyone from nine to 90, covering areas as diverse as science and nature, business and the arts, and wildlife and the environment. Whether you want to improve your sporting skills, take a home learning course in lifeskills, or discover the best way to care for new-born babies and toddlers, LTV will have something for all the family.

Cable Exclusive

The channel will be widely available from October, when cable viewers will be able to benefit from its cable exclusive informative quality programming.

For more information about LTV contact your local cable TV operator. We hope to bring you more news of Learning Television next month. ■

Miriam Stoppard is one of the presenters on Learning Television, coming next month.

Arab Channel To Launch

London's latest international Arabic language station, The Middle East Broadcasting Centre (MBC) is set to broadcast to Europe and the Middle East from early September.

A staff of more than 100 will work from MBC's Parson's Green studios to bring a news led service of wide-ranging entertainment and special interest programming aimed specifically at Arabic-speaking viewers. ■

Bobby's Girl

No prizes for guessing that the best body in the business this season, belongs to 20-year-old Naomi Campbell. Mike Tyson's sometime girlfriend from Streatham in south west London has also counted Robert De Niro among her admirers. Latest news is that Naomi is to appear in a new movie with rap star Vanilla Ice.

And That's Not All

In Fashion TV, Jeanne Beker and Sheila Cameron continue their global search for the visually stimulating works of today's creators of clothing, architecture and industrial design, and look at the hottest fashions, from Paris to Tokyo.

Fashion TV is a sexy, stylised look at the process and personalities behind the styles, rumours, and egos of the world of fashion.

While other 1960s directors were shooting pop groups and superspies, Ken Loach brought us an earthy view of what, to many people, is simply everyday life.

Hollywood Profile

Barbara Hale

Born on April 18, 1921 in DeKalb, Illinois, Barbara Hale started as a model before playing leads in many Hollywood productions from 1943. She is best remembered as Perry Mason's attractive and efficient secretary, Della Street, in the long-running and hugely popular TV series. Miss Hale, who once said 'My typing leaves a lot to be desired', is married to former co-star Bill Williams, and lives in Sherman Oaks, Los Angeles. Their son, actor William Kat, appeared with her in the new Perry Mason hit show. She has two other children and four grandchildren.

From the affluence and idealism of the 1960s emerged a series of gritty and challenging images of day to day life in backstreet Britain.

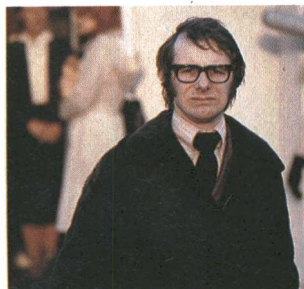

Vanguard

Spearheading this down-to-earth movement was a young director named Ken Loach.

Loach joined the BBC as a trainee television director, working on many established series including Z Cars, and two critically acclaimed studies of urban life, Up the Junction and Cathy Come Home.

In his first feature film, Poor Cow, Loach used kitchen sink realism to portray the dreary and squalid life of a young London mother and her criminal husband, played by Sixties faces Carol White and Terence Stamp. In 1971 he returned to using little-known actors. Family Life stars Sandy Ratcliffe, later to find fame in Eastenders, and tells of a teenage girl driven to a mental breakdown by family problems. The film is typical of Loach's attack on class exploitation, and contains hard-hitting attacks on drug and electric shock therapy.

Top Award

Ken Loach wasn't the only prophet of the new British realism.

Bryan Forbes' The L-Shaped Room also shows the seamier side of life, as a young pregnant girl takes refuge in a Notting Hill house full of off-beat characters.

Life at the Top, sequel to the award-winning Room at the Top, catches up with Joe Lampton 10 years on. Now married to the boss's daughter, Joe (played by Laurence Harvey), has discovered that money doesn't always bring happiness, and is wondering what to do about it.

Message in a Bottle

It's ironic that in spite of their deliberate move away from the liberated, psychaedic image of their time, these movies are now regarded as quintessential Sixties movies.

Rosalind Russell

The daughter of a lawyer and a fashion editor, Rosalind Russell was born on June 4, 1908 in Waterbury, Connecticut, and made her film debut in 1934. A stylish, versatile actress with a penchant for sophisticated comedy and sarcastic witticisms, she also played many dramatic parts, and was nominated for four Academy Awards for Best Actress. Like many Hollywood personalities, she was deeply involved with charity work, which was recognised in 1972 by the presentation of the Jean Hersholt Humanitarian award. Married to producer Frederick Brisson, Miss Russell died in 1976 after a long fight against cancer.

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL WAY TO SPEAK ANOTHER LANGUAGE

GUNS AND ROSES

Like father like son? It ain't necessarily so. Michael Douglas has proved that you don't always have to dress in rags to acquire riches.

Michael Douglas.

After leaving the University of California, Michael made his way to New York, where he appeared off-Broadway and on TV. In 1972 he became a household name as Karl Malden's sidekick in the long-running Streets of San Francisco TV series, actually directing two episodes.

His 1975 co-production One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest, starring Hollywood badboy Jack Nicholson, won all the major awards. After that Michael's production credits rolled thick and fast, including The China Syndrome, Starman, and his on-screen pairing with Kathleen Turner in Romancing the Stone, and Jewel of the Nile, which he directed.

Stone Classic

After shaking off his good guy image with Wall Street, the disturbing Fatal Attraction, and, of course, Black Rain, Michael was reunited with Kathleen Turner and the diminutive Danny DeVito, in the uproarious and sometimes scary black comedy The War of the Roses, showing on Sky Movies +.

Kathleen and Michael play Barbara and Oliver Rose, an affluent couple who met 17 years ago, fell in love, married and had two wonderful children. When Oliver's career takes off, Barbara finds herself increasingly bored and decides to start her own catering business. Of course, it's an overnight success, but Oliver is unable to cope with her new-found independence and pretty soon everything ends in tears.

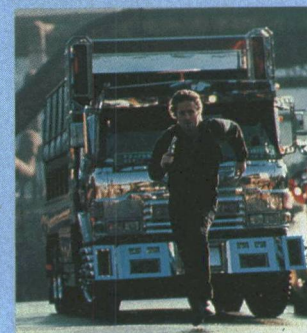

The Turner-Douglas partnership excels, turning the Rose home into a psychological and physical battlefield, as he saws the heels off her most expensive pair of shoes, and she writes off his Morgan sports car. Only DeVito's windbag divorce lawyer threatens to restore sanity. Naturally the movie was a smash hit.

What Next

Actor, director, producer, executive producer and Tinsel Town heartthrob, it's difficult to predict exactly what Hollywood's one-man-band and superhunk will do next.

In the meantime, Kirk Douglas, who once commented 'I want my sons to surpass me, because that's a form of immortality', can rest easy in the knowledge that he has probably got his wish. ■

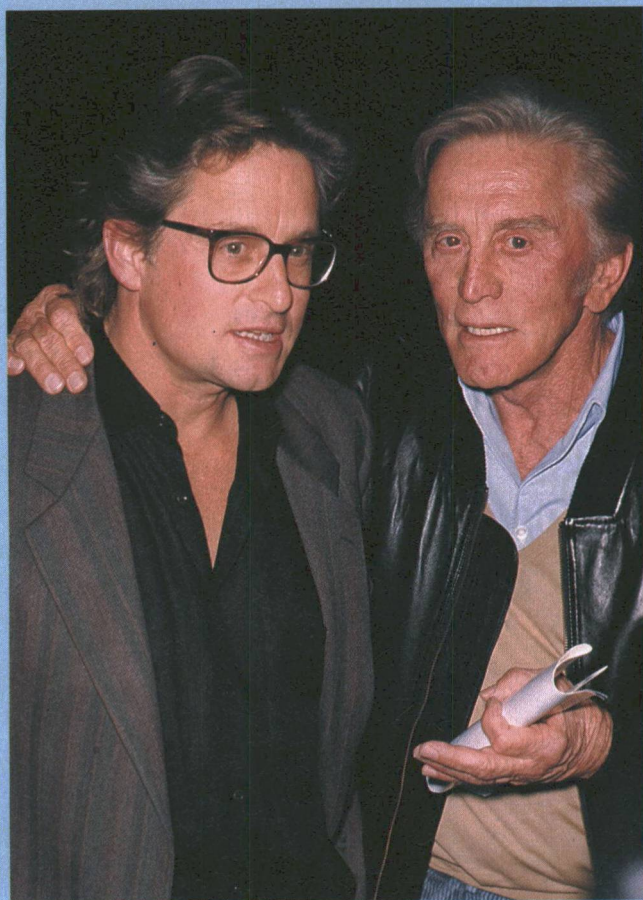

Far East Man – Michael Douglas has no truck with Japanese gangsters in Black Rain.

>> Black Rain 1989 The Movie Channel 10.25pm Saturday 21st, 11.40pm Thursday 26th, 10.05pm Monday 30th <<

Rex Features

Fatherly advice? Kirk Douglas and son Michael at the War Of The Roses party, Los Angeles 1989.

'My kids never had the advantage I had,' Kirk Douglas was once heard to say. 'I was born poor'.

Born Issur Danielovitch in New York to Russian immigrants, Kirk came up the hard way, working as a waiter, usher, bellboy and professional wrestler, before breaking through as a front rank star in the late 1940s.

But for Michael Douglas, the 'disadvantage' of being the son of a Hollywood megastar, with its attendant creature comforts, doesn't seem to have presented any special problems.

Nasty Nick

Black Rain, showing on The Movie Channel, finds him in mean mood as New York cop Nick Conklin. It's a thriller, set in Osaka, Los Angeles, and the Big Apple, in which Nick and partner Charlie Vincent (Andy Garcia, recently seen in Francis Ford Coppola's Godfather III) are assigned to deliver a brutal killer to the Japanese police.

So far so good, except that the prisoner escapes, and Nick and Charlie, now in disgrace, are sent after him with the aid of detective Masahiro Matsumoto (played by leading Japanese movie star Ken Takakura).

Plunged into the city's exotic underworld, the trio encounters Joyce Kingsley (Kate Capshaw), an American working in a Japanese hostess club, and the renegade Yakuza, Sato. Shoot-outs, chases (both on and off motorcycles), and general rough stuff make director Ridley Scott's film enjoyably daunting.

Household Name

Scott describes Nick Conklin as 'a man who has lost a sense of purpose in his life.' But that couldn't be further from the truth in the case of

THE GREAT CRUSADE CHESS SET FROM FRANKLIN MINT

Do you want to transform your garden into a designer Eden, but get butterflies at the thought? Cyril Fletcher is here with everything you need.

THAT'S GARDENING

Ever been annoyed by those green-fingered people who effortlessly produce prize marrows or award-winning shows of fuschias?

Now it could be your turn, as the famous That's Life star begins a brand new series of Cyril Fletcher's Lifestyle Garden.

Designer Garden

The Lifestyle Television Garden has been specially designed by Cyril Fletcher to demonstrate the full range of gardening skills, while at the same time catering for the needs of television cameras.

A semi-mature garden that has been under cultivation for 4 years, it is the same size as a typical town or estate house garden. But rest assured that Cyril will make it seem much larger.

Green Amateur

Cyril is joined by Lifestyle's resident West Country gardener Chris Pople and roving reporter Kate Ricketts. Together they will cover the gardening year, showing viewers all the seasonal procedures of sowing, growing, pruning and compost making.

Referring to himself as 'a knowledgeable amateur', Cyril has been gardening since he was eight years old, and was an early 'green', advocating the use of organic fertilisers and compost.

Now living in Guernsey, he talks candidly about gardening disasters and failures, and plans to cover everything, from dealing with couch grass to using conifers, and from pruning roses to the dreaded pricking out. Every angle of the small household garden is explored, including the cultivation of useful and decorative herbs, and growing flowers for arranging.

Those gardeners with an appreciation of food will be intrigued by Cyril's kitchen garden, which dispenses with the usual rows of potatoes, carrots and beans to create an attractive display of colour and height. And he'll also be getting together with Chris Pople to build a fruit cage for the cultivation of strawberries and raspberries.

Later in the series he takes a well-earned rest, and visits the Eric Young Orchid Foundation in Jersey. Founded by a millionaire enthusiast, it's the finest private collection of orchids in the world, and a Mecca for orchid fans.

So, if you've dreamed of planning your own garden, or simply enjoy admiring those of others, this is the place to start. ■

Out Of The Arc
Lifestyle starts a new series that explores the endless love-affair between people and their pets.

Hosted by Dean Hill, Pets and People is a new series crammed with amazing facts and amusing stories from the world of pets.

Dog Stars

Dean trains in the German Alps with Abel, a beautiful golden labrador rescue dog, and catches up with Ben Kersan's border collies, who are trained to respond to commands given through simple eye movements.

The show goes behind the scenes at the 'Cinema Zoo' animal talent agency, and also examines the strange equipment used for treatment at a hospital exclusively for birds.

Old Friends

Dean also takes a ride aboard a wagon drawn by six Belgian draft horses, known as 'gentle giants', and traces the breeding line of miniature horses from Argentina.

The series starts by looking at the modern-day pet shop, and gives advice on how to avoid the mistakes that today's pet-buyers are likely to make. ■

A DECADE OF DESTRUCTION

Ian Redmond / Elefriends

Elefacts

- The longest tusk is 3.45 metres (11.5 feet), and the heaviest is 117 Kilograms (259 pounds).
- Elephants live for 60 - 70 years in the wild, but often much less in captivity.
- When a baby elephant is born, it weighs between 90 - 120 kilos.
- A full grown bull (male) weighs up to 6 tonnes, and stands 3 - 4 metres high.

Ten years ago there were more than one and a half million elephants living wild in Africa. Today there are just 600,000. This month The Discovery Channel looks at what you can do to end the carnage.

What Is Ivory?

We all know that elephants are in danger because of their beautiful ivory tusks. But what exactly is ivory?

Ivory tusks are made of the same material as human teeth - enamel and dentine. Early in life elephants lose the enamel, and from then on the tusk is solid dentine.

When elephants are killed for their tusks by poachers, the ivory is carved into jewellery, ornaments and many other things. Humans do not need ivory; perhaps if something else could be used to carve these things from - plastic, stone or wood - the slaughter of the elephant could come to an end. ■

Running for their lives? CITES has outlawed the ivory trade, but for how long?

Will Travers / Elefriends

Africa's once-great elephant herds are being wiped out by ruthless poachers and their relentless quest for ivory. Even in the great game sanctuaries, the elephant is falling prey to the same scourge that has rendered the Black Rhino virtually extinct.

To combat the destruction of this gentle giant, the UK charity Zoo Check set up a conservation project called Elefriends. In 1989 Elefriends persuaded the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species (CITES) to outlaw the ivory trade.

But the ban is only temporary, and the poachers are still at work, competing against heavily outnumbered rangers and wardens.

Now supported by more than a million people, Elefriends is launching its 2nd international Ele-Week to draw attention to the continuing slaughter. And The Discovery Channel is staging a special Ele-Weekend of programmes devoted to the species' struggle for survival.

Vanishing Africa demonstrates how Kenya's lush plains and peaceful savannah, once the elephant's natural home, are now giving way to sprawling suburbs and the new high-rise hotels of modern Nairobi.

In The Most Dangerous Animal, world famous wildlife artist David Shepherd, who has donated many of his paintings to raise more than £1 million for wildlife conservation, visits the Luangwa Valley in Zambia with the country's president, Kenneth Kaunda. Together they witness the effects of poaching which is threatening to wipe out Zambia's elephant population.

In Search Of Wildlife looks at how game wardens track down the gangs of ivory poachers by patrolling the 10,000 square kilometres of South Luangwa National Park on foot, armed only with hunting rifles.

If you'd like to help in the campaign to save the elephant, you can contact Elefriends at the address shown below: ■

Big Bad Bart

All pictures British Sky Broadcasting

The Simpsons are probably the greatest television success story to date. Outrageous and irreverent, they make any other family seem perfect by comparison.

Created by cartoonist Matt Groening, The Simpsons began life as a series of brief inserts in The Tracy Ullman Show in America. Almost overnight they became a US cult phenomenon, and now this wild and witty television series has captured the imagination of the British Public.

Three-times Academy award-winning executive James L Brooks describes the series as 'the normal, middle-American family in all its beauty and all its horror. They're an hallucination of a sitcom'.

The Simpsons are certainly unlike any other TV family. But what is so appealing about this grotesque collection of characters?

The secret of the show's success is its realistic and perceptive portrayal of domestic, everyday life, carried along by an amusing but believable story-line to which both children and parents can easily relate. And it has great music.

Homer is the grumpy father who works as a safety inspector at a nuclear power plant near the community of Springfield, while Marge is the loving mum who, between sorting out the rest of the family, moonlights as a roller-skating waitress with the aid of an enormous blue beehive hairdo.

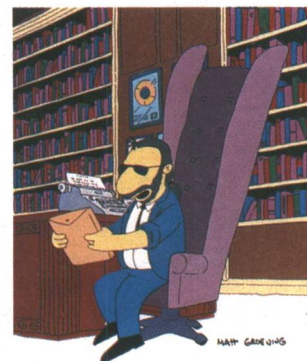

Lisa, like many TV sitcom daughters, is the relatively quiet and intelligent member of the family, while Maggie is the perpetually dummy-sucking infant.

But the undisputed star of the show is 10-year-old Bart, who, with his jagged crown of yellow, spiked hair, and his T-shirt proclaiming 'Underachiever... and proud of it', has become a counterculture hero.

Bart has also enjoyed staggering success in the music world with the hit singles Deep Deep Trouble and Do The Bartman, which topped the UK charts for three consecutive weeks. In fact, as one teen magazine commented, 'Bart Simpson is bigger than Madonna'. Perhaps we'll see him on Wogan.

WIN A CHILDREN'S CHANNEL TEDDY BEAR!

There's lots of fun to be had on The Children's Channel this month, with new programmes like Bagpuss, Potsworth and Co, Round The Twist and Betty's Bunch.

And if you're aged between 3 and 7, there's a great chance to win one of 30 Children's Channel Club Teddy Bears.

All you have to do is answer these three questions correctly, and a TCC Ted like the one in the picture will be on its way to you.

- What is the name of the sleepy, saggy old cloth cat?
- What sort of animal is Nellie?
- What is the name of the bear in The Magic Corner?

Entries on a postcard, please, to:

TCC Club Teddy Bears

●The Big Roundup

Potsworth and Co tells the story of a pet springer spaniel and his chums who are whisked off to the exciting and magical Dream Zone every night when they fall asleep. In this strange world, where dreams become reality, the whole gang use their special magic powers to become the Midnight Patrol. Their mission is to help the snoozy Grand Dozer, ruler of the Dream Zone, to make sure all his visitors have pleasant dreams. But this brings them into conflict with the Life is never simple for the remarkable Twist family, who try to get away from it all by leaving the city to make their new home in a lighthouse. But things go from bad to worse, when Pete's discovery that the outside loo is haunted sets off a round of thrills and spills and things that go bump in the night. For example, chaos reigns when a bolt of lightning hits the video remote control which starts to work on people! It's the rewind button that causes the most trouble, especially when the rabbit from the local school pigs out in a spaghetti-eating competition. ■

>> Expect the unexpected in Round The Twist at 10.30am every Sunday morning from September 1st. <<

● Betty's Bunch is an action-adventure-drama from New Zealand. It centres around Betty Boomer's foster home and four kids named Mick, Megan, Chrissie and wee Billy, who make up the bunch. When the finances get tough the kids set up their own work scheme called 'Gizza Job' which unwittingly gets them involved with a gang of thieves called the Blake Street Boys. But the trouble really starts when Betty mysteriously disappears, leaving the Bunch with a real battle on their hands and a lot of questions to answer. ■ villainous Nightmare Prince, who is bent on ruining everyone's dreams by creating nightmare monsters.

>> You can join the adventures of Potsworth and Co at 10.00am every Sunday morning from September 1st. <<

● And finally we come to that well-known resident of Emily's magic shop, Bagpuss. When Bagpuss wakes up, all the other inhabitants of the shop come to life and play with the things Emily has brought in for mending. The mice from the Mouse Organ decide to clean out a dirty old bottle and find bits of an old ship inside. They then start to tell tall tales and sing songs about ships, while Bagpuss himself tells a magic poem about the days when he was a sea captain. As always, his thoughts are very powerful, and everybody can see what he is thinking. The magic poem mends the ship, which the mice gently fold back into the bottle. Bagpuss yawns and rubs his eyes and soon the shop is still again. It's as though nothing had ever happened. ■

Are You Ready To Rock?

For the sixth year running, MTV's Video Music Awards are beamed live from Los Angeles. Who do you think will win?

July of this year saw the announcement in Los Angeles of the finalists who will compete in each category for the 1991 MTV Video Music Awards.

22 awards will be presented for excellence in the field of video music, with categories ranging from rap to post modern, and dance to heavy metal.

Bands On The Run

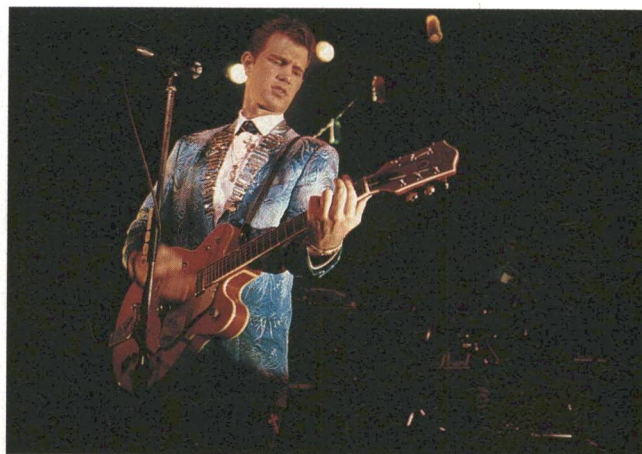

Rockers in the running include Jon Bon Jovi, C & C Music Factory, Amy Grant, Jesus Jones, Madonna, The Pet Shop Boys, REM, and Chris Isaak, who has been nominated for a staggering six awards for the Wicked Game video from David Lynch's Wild At Heart.

Described by John Fogerty as 'probably the best songwriter in the USA today', Chris started out on the San Francisco club circuit, before releasing three critically acclaimed albums Silvertone, Chris Isaak and Heart-Shaped World.

His haunting guitar chords moved audiences of Wild At Heart to send Wicked Game straight into the Top 10. 'I like this kind of music' says Chris uncompromisingly. 'It's what I do best'.

His link with director Lynch goes back further than Wild At Heart to an offer to appear in the disturbing Blue Velvet. Chris turned it down, but did accept a cameo role

In the years to come these children will work for large corporations and control even larger parts of the world.

40 years ago, the idea that Japan could rival the West seemed absurd. Today she is poised to become the world's major economic superpower.

The Meeting of East and West

In 1945 Japan lay in ruins, her cities flattened and her people starving. Today, a group of schoolchildren pose for a photograph in one of Japan's parks. By the time they pose for their high school graduation photographs in a few years time, their country will have overtaken the United States to become the world's richest nation.

How has this ruined society been transformed into a major economic power, and what are the forces that underlie its success?

Ancient and Modern

Starting on The Discovery Channel this month, Japan presents an outsider's impression of a country that is at the cutting edge of modern technology, and yet remains rooted deep in its tribal past.

For instance, teenager Toyoko works in a camera factory, has her own hi-fi, television and video, and wants to visit Disneyland. But while she is outwardly influenced by Paris fashions and pop music, her ancient Japanese culture will never be undermined.

No Ties

Every day she worships at the family Shinto shrine with her grandfather, following an ancient religion that traces its roots back 1600 years to the early Emperors of Japan.

Like many Japanese, Toyoko is not tied to any one religion. Although only one per cent of Japan's people are practising Christians, many choose to be married in church like Westerners. Yet when Toyoko buries her grandparents, she will do so in accordance with the tenets of the Buddhist religion.

This demonstrates the Japanese ability to absorb new ideas from the West without losing their identity, as traditional family values of loyalty, obedience and hard work remain unaffected by periods of religious diversity and decline.

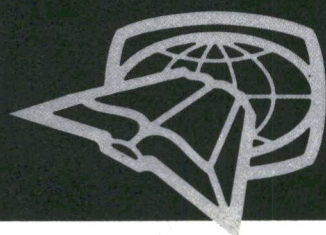

It's all here

We see early colour footage of Japan's ravaged industrial centres, the backbreaking, exclusively female task of planting rice in flooded paddy fields, and workers at the Honda car factory starting the day by chanting the company slogan. We also visit the awesome volcanoes of southern Japan, where schoolchildren wear protective helmets against a hail of volcanic pebbles, while at the colourful Lantern Festival, young men balance up to 48 huge lanterns on poles, to drive away the demon of drowsiness that affects people at work.

Narrated by Robin Ellis of Poldark fame, the series features the energetic rhythms of the Kodo Drummers, as well as haunting flute music from John Kaizan Neptune. ■

The most controversial political discussion on television – Austin Mitchell and Norman Tebbit in Target.

Seaside Shuffle

With an election looming, the parties are once more gathering at their traditional seaside retreats. Sky News is there.

The TUC are heading off to Glasgow this year. Between Monday 2nd and Friday 6th, delegates will ruminate over the role of trade unions, declining membership and proposed union reform.

SLD Slip

Despite success in recent by-elections, Paddy Ashdown's SLD have consistently slipped in opinion polls since 1987, and will be getting together in Bournemouth between Monday 9th and Thursday 12th to warm up for the forthcoming campaign.

The Labour Party will be at Brighton between Sunday

29th and Friday October 4th for their annual seaside sojourn. The Party's national executive committee may make the first parliamentary purge of Militant supporters, which could either win new voters, or cause a deep divide.

Austin Mitchell and Norman Tebbit (who is planning to stand down at the next election) will discuss many of this year's conference issues in Sky News' weekly political debate programme Target.

Peanuts

In 1981 ex-US President Jimmy Carter returned home electorally defeated following the Iranian hostage crisis. A decade after he left the White House, Jimmy is back on the front lines, championing causes ranging from fairness in the turbulent Panamanian and Nicaraguan elections, to environmental issues and housing for the poor.

Citizen Carter is a candid portrait of the man and his achievements, as diplomat, statesman, traveller and environmentalist, and also looks at the very private world of his religious faith, and his family life in Georgia.

PERSPECTIVE

“After just three months, a first prize of £500. Then, a food processor, a £100 hamper, and now, would you believe it, a Renault GTX! And all thanks to Competitor’s Companion”

Letters from new subscribers already winning prizes ... letters from subscribers who have won twice, four times, seven times since joining. We have hundreds in our files. We show you some of them here and you'll find more in every issue of Competitor's Companion. As CS of Weybridge wrote, "When does it stop? In seven weeks I've won a video recorder, a microwave oven, £500 cash and a £100 voucher!"

Britain is going competition crazy. And our claim? Britain's most exciting and successful comping publication.

Just look at what you get in every issue:-

- * Full details of every consumer contest in Britain worth entering – names, addresses, prizes, rules, closing dates, where to find the Entry Forms. No more trudging around the shops – with CC you can go straight for them! Even more important – we tell you when you DON'T need entry forms ... when you can make plain-paper and postcard entries and you don't even have to buy the product!
- * Suggested solutions to the competition. We do the Wordsearches, Spot The Differences and Put the Points of Merit In Order. And to inspire you and show you exactly what the judges are looking for, we publish the slogans that are actually winning those big prizes in current competitions.
- * News, views and what's going on in the world of comping ... your questions answered ... hints and tips ... winners' letters ... there's even a page for you to advertise your unwanted prizes.

The information ... the inspiration ... the secrets of winning ... the sheer fun and excitement of consumer comping ... it's all in Competitor's Companion. Read those letters again. Isn't it time you joined us?

CAG/09/91

British Film Institute

Although the themes of crime and punishment are familiar to everyone, 'stalk and shoot' movies are now more popular than ever.

Watching the Detectives

Crime and detection have always provided great material for moviemakers, and this month HVC has a clutch of action-packed murder thrillers in store.

Paul LeMat, the star of Veiled Threat, is well-qualified to handle any rough stuff that might come his way.

Before making movies, Paul served in Vietnam, and was also an accomplished boxer, with plans for a career in the ring. In fact he was hoping to represent the US at the Olympics, when, after years of study at New York's Actor's Studio, he was offered the part of aging hot-rod John Milner in American Graffiti.

Rock 'n' Soul

Married to Motown Records executive Suzanne De Passe, and chunkier these days than the wiry, Top left: Where was he in '73? Paul LeMat as John Milner in American Graffiti. Below: The beer hunter – John Savage sniffs out corruption at the Alcohol Beverage Control in The Tender Age.

British Film Institute

wisecracking character of his 1973 rock'n'roll adventure, Paul has been kept busy in movies like Aloha, Bobby and Rose, Handle With Care, More American Graffiti, Melvin and Howard, Easy Wheels and Deuce Coup.

Private Investigations

In Veiled Threat he plays Jack Purcell, an ex-CIA officer who is now a private detective in Hollywood.

When an old friend persuades him to take a case linked to the Middle East, Purcell's investigations lead him to a shady diplomat known as the Mullah.

His discovery of arms deals involving the intelligence community leads to a series of kidnappings, car bombings and brutal murders on the streets of Los Angeles, culminating in an attempt on his life by the Mullah's sinister and ruthless associate Booth (played by Scott Allan Campbell).

Savage Seventies

Another young actor who shot to fame in the early 1970s is John Savage, hailed at the time as another James Dean.

John already had a theatre company of his own by the time he was 15. He later went to the American Academy, and ended up on Broadway in Fiddler on the Roof.

It was while appearing on stage in Michigan that he received the offer of his first movie, Steelyard Blues, opposite Jane Fonda and Donald Sutherland. He then starred in the off-beat western Bad Company with Jeff Bridges, and went on to make such illustrious movies as The Deer Hunter, The Onion Field, Inside Moves, Maria's Lovers and Salvador, with James Woods.

Getting the Point

'I like to do a picture that has a point of view' John once said. And in The Tender Age he gets his wish.

John plays Tim Donovan, a juvenile probation officer for the city of Boston. Tim is totally dedicated to his work, his daughter and his girlfriend Sarah.

He is assigned the case of Nicki Davis, a mysterious blonde girl who has been arrested for causing a car crash and arguing with the police.

Strange Brew

Nicki's strange behaviour culminates with her slashing her wrists, and Tim starts an investigation that links her wealthy attorney father to corruption at the Alcohol Beverage Control, and a sleazy barowner named Nikos.

It's obvious that something is desperately wrong, but will Tim be able to expose Nicki's painful family secret?

As the saying goes 'When the going gets tough, the tough get going.' And on HVC they really do. ■

THE BOXER

Speaking of boxers-turned actors, sometime amateur fighter Mickey Rourke returned to the ring on May 23rd this year to meet Steve 'The Hammer' Powell. The professional light heavyweight bout, held in Fort Lauderdale, Florida lasted four rounds, but the star of Johnny Handsome, showing on Sky Movies + was unimpressive. He won on points amid a barrage of insults from the audience, one of whom advised him bluntly to return to Hollywood. ■

IT MIGHT BE SCANDALOUS

but at least it's British...

L-SHAPED ROOM

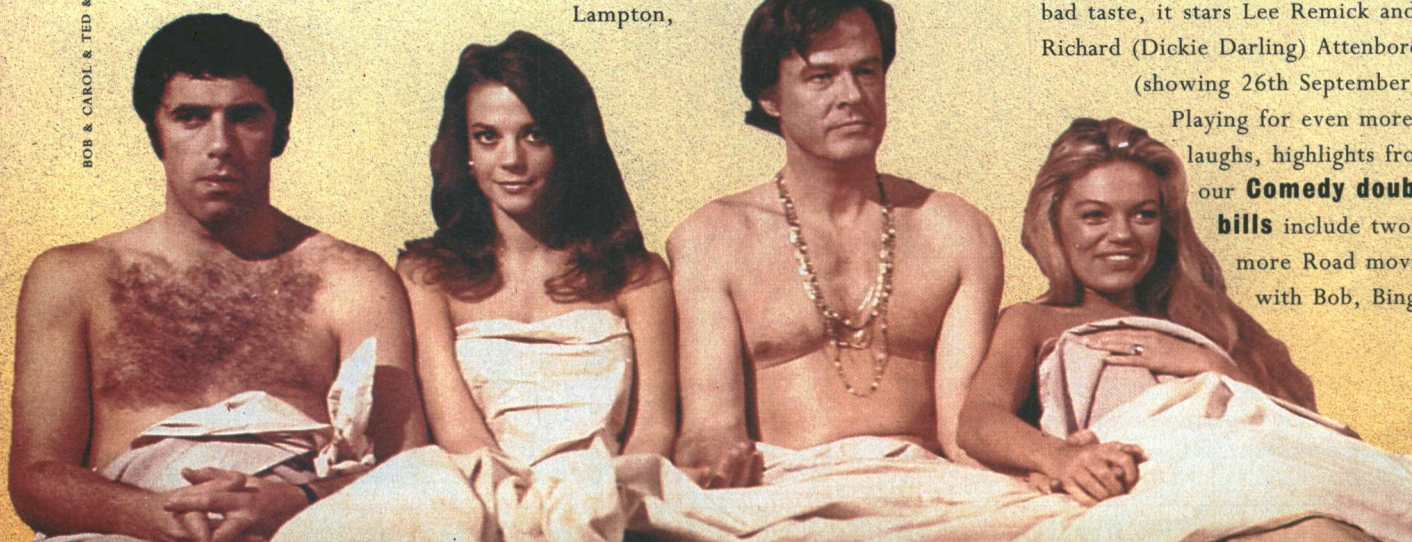

Oh, it's all good stuff - megalomania, social degradation, corruption of innocence, bureaucratic evil - no-one handles scandal on the screen quite like we British, as you'll discover in this month's 'Scandal UK'

Double Bills.

For instance, a maladjusted black man, two prostitutes, a lesbian actress, and an out-of-work writer (Tom Bell) all share a house in Notting Hill Gate with a young, lonely, pregnant French girl (Leslie Caron) who is contemplating abortion in the 'L-Shaped Room' (1963).

BOB & CAROL & TED & ALICE

This absorbing piece, written and directed by Bryan Forbes, is wonderfully evocative of London in the early sixties just before it worked up the momentum to 'swing'. (Note a small role by Forbes' wife, Nanette Newman, before she found real screen success promoting Fairy Liquid).

Completing this double bill is 'These are the Damned'

(12th September), a brooding 1961 sci-fi drama starring Macdonald Carey, Oliver Reed and the delicious Shirley Anne Field. Powerful direction by Joseph Losey.

In 'Life at the Top' (1965), the sequel to 'Room at the Top', Laurence Harvey turns in another excellent bad-boy performance as the definitive Joe Lampton - this time the drama's out of the kitchen sink as Joe, now married to the boss's daughter, is experiencing a 10-year itch. When I first saw Joe Lampton,

I must admit a sneaking admiration for his mean and moody way with women. Being at an impressionable age, I tried it on my girl friend, who told me where to get off - so I did, at the next bus stop.

This double-bills with 'Poor Cow' (1967) the Ken Loach slice-of-squalid-life classic, starring Carol White and Terence Stamp. Music by Donovan. (Showing 19th September) The final 'Scandal UK' duo features another gritty Ken Loach offering, 'Family Life' (1971), teamed with Joe Orton's marvellously irreverent black farce 'Loot' (1972) - abounding with bad taste, it stars Lee Remick and Richard (Dickie Darling) Attenborough (showing 26th September).

Playing for even more laughs, highlights from our Comedy double bills include two more Road movies with Bob, Bing et al on their way to Bali and Rio (10th September) and going one better than a love triangle is the four-in-a-bed 'Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice'

- a tense drama set in the New Orleans of the '30s. Look out for a promising young Jane Fonda (she must have had her teeth fixed since classic 'The Third Man' - based on the novel by Graham Greene and brilliantly photographed by Robert Krasner. A totally classy and memorable thriller, full of intrigue and style - as Joseph Cotten plays an American Western writer trying to track down his old friend Harry Lime, beautifully played by the enigmatic Mr Welles. Cancel all plans...definitely a Saturday night to stay in.

Well, that's it for now - I'll be back with you again next month with more of my celluloid ramblings - something I seem to have been doing since I fell in love with movies back in the days of the 'sixpenny' Gaumont Club. Wonderful days - it's amazing how much fun you could have with a bag of monkey nuts. Whatever happened to Saturday Morning Pictures? And

CITIZEN KANE

(1969), showing with the rather raunchy 'The Owl and the Pussy Cat' (1970), starring Barbra Streisand as the casual hooker and George Segal as the man next door - excellent performances from both (showing 17th September).

But the one I'm looking forward to is 'There's a Girl in My Soup' (1970), starring my hero and the best-ever British comedy actor, Peter Sellers - brilliantly corny as an ageing smoothy Casanova, strung along by the 'My God but you're lovely' Goldie Hawn in excellent form - showing with 1965 army life romp 'You Must be Joking' starring Terry Thomas (24th September).

But it's no laughing matter when Laurence Harvey, Barbara Stanwyck and Capucine star in the gripping 'Walk on the Wild Side' (showing 8th & 13th September) if nothing else). A one-handkerchief picture superbly directed by Edward Dymtryk in 1962.

Finally, as part of the Orson Welles Double Bill, Bravo have put together a real win-double programme on September 14th. First, the greatest film of the month, if not all-time, is Orson Welles' mighty 'Citizen Kane'. Made on a modest budget of \$ $\frac{1}{4}$ million, this thinly-disguised study of newspaper tycoon William Randolph Hearst was undoubtedly Welles' finest hour, for which he won an Oscar with co-writer Herman J. Mankiewicz.

As well as being its co-star, Welles also helped write the second important feature of the evening, Carol Reed's award-winning British who needs them when you've got Bravo? (Good to end on a plug - the Management like it, and this is my first review remember!) Meanwhile, see you in the stalls.

ADULT FILMS FOR WOMEN?

Femme is the name of the company formed by ex-adult film actress Candida Royalle. This month sees the start of a series of ten erotic films made by Femme. Her movies are somewhat different to the usual American fare and are made from a "woman's perspective". Interviewed on BBC2, CNN, CBS, Doctor Ruth and in Playboy, New York Times, Time Magazine, The Mirror, The Observer, and later this year in New Woman, Candida Royalle says "we need to see real women in erotic circumstances, not just the blond busty bimbo female". Is Candida Right? Judge for yourself. See the adult page for details of the award winning "The Tunnel" and "Fortune Smiles" the first two "Femme" films in a double feature.

SEPTEMBER SENSATIONS!

If you're looking for top-rate movie entertainment, then you've come to the right place.

Steel Magnolias on The Movie Channel focuses on the lives and loves of six female friends in a small Louisiana town, and stars Shirley MacLaine, Sally Field, Dolly Parton, Daryl Hannah, Olympia Dukakis and Julia Roberts.

It's the boys turn on Sky Movies +, as hunky Sylvester Stallone and raunchy Kurt Russell team up as the formidable cop duo Tango and Cash, while Bravo celebrates the 50th anniversary of the original release of Orson Welles' brilliant and incisive Citizen Kane.

Meanwhile, Sigurd The Dragon Killer on Lifestyle tells the story of the son of a viking chief who lives in a world of weapons and revenge. And in Angel On My Shoulder on Super Channel, Paul Muni plays a dead convict who is sent back to Earth by the devil in the guise of a respected judge.

And finally, on HVC, Dynasty star Joan Collins appears in one of her earlier movies, Homework, in which a group of high school teenagers burn with desire when a new French language teacher arrives at their school.

So with more than 480 movies to choose from, you're all set for a sensational September on Cable TV.

Today's Choice

8.00pm Bravo. West of the Pecos. Adapted from an original story by sagebrush writer Zane Grey, this gritty, traditional oater tells the story of a cowboy who comes across a meatpacker's daughter dressed as a boy, and saves her from bandits. Did we say traditional? Not only that, it's the movie that brought together actor Bill Williams and lovely Barbara Hale, later to become a household name as Perry Mason's secretary Della Street. See page 4.

Today's Choice

8.00pm HVC. Backstage. Real-life singer and actress Laura Branigan of Gloria fame takes up a somewhat autobiographical role as Kate Lawrence, an international singing star who hankers for success as a dramatic actress. She takes an offer from an unscrupulous Englishman who wants to cast her in his Australian production. But on arrival in Melbourne she finds herself appearing in a fifth rate play, and vilified by the local press. Includes some great music.

8.00pm The Discovery Channel. Japan.
Starting today, Japan presents an outsider's impression of a country that is at the cutting edge of modern technology, and yet remains deeply rooted in its tribal past. From the ancient discipline of the Samurai warrior, to the hi-tech automobile factories of today, this is a fascinating insight into what will soon be the world's richest nation. See feature page 14.

1.00am MTV. The MTV Video Music Awards. Live from the Universal Amphitheatre in Los Angeles, the Awards feature a pantheon of rock and rap stars competing for just about every category imaginable. Last year Sinéad O'Connor scooped the board, and explained her earlier refusal to have the American national anthem played at her concerts. This year she's not even in the nominations, but the enigmatic Chris Isaak is up for six, all of them for Wicked Game from David Lynch's Wild At Heart. See feature page 13.

 INDRA DHNUSH		 THE MOVIE CHANNEL		Today's Choice 8.00pm Bravo. Detour. Directed by Edgar G. Ulmer, this ironic melodrama stars Tom Neal as a hitch-hiking night club piano player who meets a scheming femme fatale, played by Ann Savage, and suddenly finds himself innocently involved in murder. A cheap but awesome movie which has won a deserved cult following over the years due to its doomladen script and an abundance of film noir angles.

Today's Choice

7.15am The Children's Channel. Bagpuss.
When Bagpuss, the sleepy, saggy old cloth cat that lives in Emily's magic shop wakes up, all the other inhabitants of the shop come to life too, and start playing around with the things Emily has brought in for mending. No prizes for guessing that the mice from the Mouse Organ get up to all kinds of mischief, and there's also a wail of a time to be had with magic poems and songs about life on the ocean wave. See page 12 for a super TCC competition.

 INDRA DHNUSH		 THE MOVIE CHANNEL		Today's Choice 2.40pm Lifestyle. Cyril Fletcher's Lifestyle Garden. From his semi-mature garden in Guernsey, specially designed for both easy cultivation and the television cameras, That's Life star Cyril Fletcher gives advice on how to design the perfect garden within the confines of a typical town house garden. Pruning roses, dealing with couch grass and getting down to the dreaded pricking out are all made easy in this new series which can be seen every Tuesday and Thursday at the same time. See feature page 8.

 Lifestyle	INDRA DHNUSH	 MOVIES	THE MOVIE CHANNEL	Today's Choice 10.15am The Movie Channel. Play It Cool. The late, great Billy Fury stars in this early Sixties rock rave about a young rich girl who gets tangled up with a group of young rockers about to make it big. An early offering from director Michael Winner, the movie also features Alvin Stardust in his earlier incarnation as Shane Fenton and the Fentones. Bop, cats bop!

Today's Choice

10.05pm The Movie Channel. The Rose. A wild rocking musical drama loosely based on the life of 1960s 'Wild Girl of Rock' Janis Joplin. Bette Midler makes her powerhouse film debut as the talented but self-destructive artist whose loneliness and failed romances lead to her downfall. At the time, Midler said that the movie was not just about Joplin, but all the rock casualties of the late Sixties. Great music.

 INDRA DHNUSH		 MOVIES		THE MOVIE CHANNEL		Today's Choice 9.30pm Bravo. The Road To Rio. Bing, Bob and Dorothy are back in another international romp crammed with wisecracks and great songs. This time our two heroes are a pair of musicians who hop a boat to Rio after being accused of arson. No prizes for guessing that once on board, they run into Lamour's damsel in distress. Watch out for The Andrews Sisters singing group and talented actress Gale Sondergaard, long blacklisted in Hollywood after the communist witchunts of the 1950s.

8.00pm HVC The Tender Age. This fraught drama about a Boston probation officer and his problems with a wayward teenager and her cronies started life as a American PBS Playhouse production entitled The Little Sister. It stars heartthrob John Savage, best known for his performances in The Deer Hunter and The Onion Field, who also shone in a brief but powerful role in 1988's street saga The Beat. See feature page 17.

10.00pm Screensport. Pro Box: The Eubank-Watson Grudge Rematch. After the uproar from both fans and press following badboy Chris Eubank's win on points at his last meeting with Watson, demands for a rematch have been answered. Eubank blamed his late-fight weariness of the previous fight on inability to make the weight, so he has given up his WBO middleweight crown; consequently the rematch is now taking place for the vacant WBO super middleweight crown. There should be fireworks-a-plenty. See feature page 110.

Today's Choice

11.30pm HVC. Veiled Threat. Paul LeMat of American Graffiti fame plays the lead in this tale of the slaying of an Iranian journalist in Orange County. Says Paul, 'I'm in this acting profession, but I'm convinced it's something I should not be doing.' A strange attitude for someone who has found fame and fortune in a string of top Hollywood movies, including Hanoi Hilton and Melvin and Howard. But, says Paul, 'I'm not like everyone else. I have to accept that'. See feature page 17.

				Today's Choice 11.40pm The Movie Channel. Black Rain. Ridley Scott directed this handsomely mounted and visually dazzling cop thriller starring Michael Douglas and Andy Garcia as a pair of no-nonsense New York detectives forced to journey to the strange and confusing city of Osaka to track down a ruthless killer. Their Japanese counterpart Ken Takakura helps them navigate the city's alien and hostile underworld which is ruled by the sinister Yakuza. See feature page 6.

Today's Choice

8.00pm The Discovery Channel. In Search of Wildlife. Ele-Weekend starts here. Ten years ago, there were more than one and a half million elephants living wild in Africa. Today there are just 600,000. In Zambia's South Luangwa National Park, determined but outnumbered game wardens protect the fast-dwindling elephant herds from ivory poachers, patrolling the park's 10,000 square kilometers on foot, and armed only with hunting rifles. Watch out for more Ele-features tomorrow and on Saturday. See feature page 9.

 INDRA DHNUSH		 THE MOVIE CHANNEL		Today's Choice 12.25am Bravo. Poor Cow. Sixties face Carol White stars in Ken Loach's gritty kitchen sink drama about a young girl who seeks happiness for her baby while trying to cope with her jailbird husband, played by a young Terence Stamp. Innovative and striking, the film's television-style documentary approach provoked controversy and concern at the time, but serves these days as a quintessential piece of Sixties memorabilia. See feature page 4.

Tension is mounting over the forthcoming Watson-Eubank grudge rematch. Peter Hardy looks back at their past records and weighs up their chances Shall I Stay Or Shall I Go?

'If I walked out now, he would starve!' said British boxing's Mr Bad, Chris Eubank, during the build-up to his next fight.

'He' was his next opponent Michael Watson, and, true to his word, Eubank walked out on the gentlemen of the press who had gathered at White Hart Lane to talk to the two fighters.

Banner Man

The man just cannot seem to stay away from banner headlines. Ever since he beat Nigel Benn for the WBO middleweight title in front of 15,000 fans at Birmingham's NEC last November, Eubank has stirred up the world of boxing.

That bout was voted Fight of the Year in every boxing magazine in 1990, and Eubank's courage was undeniable. Before the fight, he had stunned the press by telling them boxing was a mug's game, and that he was fighting for money alone.

Bizarre Proposal

Rare words for the fight world; but Eubank was already marked out as an unusual character. His victory over Benn seemed to open the floodgates for the bizarre. His ringside interview at the Benn fight included a proposal of marriage to his girlfriend, and when he got back in the ring three months later in his home town of Brighton, the controversy continued unabated.

An apparently easy opponent from Canada, Dan Sherry got under Eubank's skin by bad-mouthing the new champion, who responded by giving his opponent a back-headbutt.

No Butts

Eubank was docked a couple of points for what many consider to be one of the craziest acts in modern boxing, but still retained his crown, despite calls for disqualification. The Eubank train rolled on to the next fight, titled 'Beauty and the Beast', against sometime model Gary Stretch, whose claim to fame included a date with Chrissy Hynde of The Pretenders.

Naturally, Eubank won again, but this time he was less than impressive. His bragging that he was the best (he enters the arena to Tina Turner's Simply the Best) was beginning to wear thin. But no-one realised how thin until he faced Michael Watson in June this year.

Top Man

Watson was another Brit who should already have been a world champion. He defeated Nigel Benn with his compact, orthodox style, but his only challenge ended in defeat against top middleweight Mike McCallum.

Eubank and Watson turned out to be well-matched, and the enthralling 12-round contest featured many ups and downs. The crowd, always hoping to see Eubank well and truly beaten, were wildly in favour of Watson, but Eubank was punching harder, especially in the earlier rounds.

Bad Card

That's what the judges saw, which perhaps fight fans didn't, because Eubank won convincingly on two cards, with a draw given on the third.

This decision infuriated both Watson and the ringside fans. Eubank had looked desperately tired in the final rounds, and seemed to wobble as Watson piled on the pressure.

Nevertheless, it takes a super-human performance to defeat a champion, and Watson had come up short. But press reaction matched Watson's, and the cries for an immediate rematch have been answered.

Questions and Answers

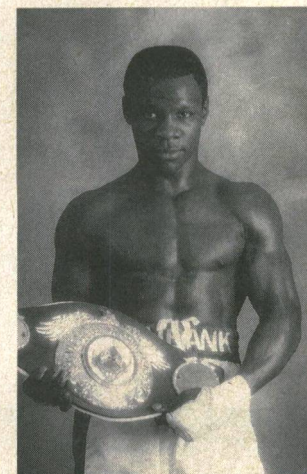

Yet there is another twist. Eubank blamed his late-fight weariness on his inability to make the weight, so he has given up his WBO middleweight crown, and his rematch fight with Watson takes place for the vacant WBO super middleweight crown.

Whether Eubank will at last put on the kind of show that beat Benn, or whether Watson will confirm what happened in the first fight, are questions that all fight fans want answered.

Whatever happens, there is sure to be controversy somewhere along the line; the bad boy from Brighton is not so hot at dodging it as he is his opponents punches in the ring. ■

Below: Belting up and buckling down? Chris Eubank prepares to meet Mike Watson on Saturday 21st.

PICK A TEAM

Pint-sized disc jockey and American football presenter Nicky Horne, who presents Sky Sports National Football League coverage this season, is ideally qualified to name the 'Top Ten' clubs to watch in the new campaign.

Below: The San Francisco 49ers prepare to meet the New York Giants on the 4th.

Nicky Horne predicts that Thurman Thomas and the Bills will scoop the NFL this season.

As Channel 4's original gridiron presenter, Nicky has become an expert on American football. 'One to watch this year is Troy Aikman, the Dallas Cowboys quarterback', he says. 'He'll emerge as the new superstar. But it will be Thurman Thomas and the Buffalo Bills who take the big prize by winning the Super Bowl.'

Nicky's Top Ten Teams to watch out for this season are:

- 1 Buffalo Bills
- 2 Kansas City Chiefs
- 3 Los Angeles Raiders
- 4 Philadelphia Eagles
- 5 New York Giants
- 6 San Francisco 49ers
- 7 Miami Dolphins
- 8 Washington Redskins
- 9 Pittsburgh
- 10 Chicago Bears

>> NFL American Football Sky Sports 9.30pm Wednesday 4th San Francisco 49ers @ New York Giants, 10.00pm Wednesday 11th Dallas Cowboys @ Washington Redskins, 10.00pm Wednesday 18th Houston Oilers @ Kansas City Chiefs, 10.00pm Wednesday 25th Chicago Bears @ Washington Redskins. <<

Wizards of Oz

Sky Sports will be presenting live coverage of Australia's premier Rugby League event for the first time, as Australia's two toughest sides battle it out in the Grand Final of the Winfield Cup on Saturday 21st September. Initially played as a league, the Cup features the top five teams who, at the end of the season, compete in the play-offs for a place in the Grand Final. The competition is so popular that there should be plenty of vocal support for the two finalists as they walk out at the Sydney Football Stadium. ■

>> The Winfield Cup Final - Live Sky Sports 4.00am Saturday 21st. <<

Putting The Boot In

With football being screened seven days a week, 1991 - 1992 will be the most televised soccer season ever. It will include more than 90 live English, Scottish, Italian and German games, and begins with a friendly game between England and Germany at Wembley Stadium, which will inevitably bring back memories of England's 1966 World Cup win.

As the season continues, fans in England can look forward to the FA Cup, The Zenith Data Systems Cup, and the final stages of the Autoglass Cup. There's also exclusive live action from the Skol Cup in Scotland (both quarter and semi-finals are played this month), as well as the Scottish Cup and key matches from the Scottish League.

In addition to this terrific range of domestic soccer, there will also be coverage of 30 Italian matches and the German league.

Keeping you up to date with the latest issues and trends in soccer, and looking forward to forthcoming games, are two new magazine programmes.

SEARCH FOR ADVENTURE

Some people will do anything for a challenge. Free-falling through the skies at 200 miles an hour with just a few flimsy ounces of parachute silk to save them. It's their idea of fun. See them, and the other dare-devils who risk life and limb, in a new 26-part series on Discovery.

A Ring of Quality... The Beauty of Tradition

The world's great art traditions revealed in 15 exquisite collector's bells of handcrafted porcelain, crystal, cloisonné . . . and more.

Bells have rung around the world for centuries. Bringing joy to millions. With a lyric beauty and artistry that's inspired a cherished collecting tradition.

Now, this glorious tradition unites with great art styles of the world in a bell collection unlike any other. Fifteen magnificent bells intricately handcrafted by master artisans in countries all over the globe . . . in a rich variety of art mediums.

Elegant Venetian glass from the craftsmen of Italy . . . cobalt blue 22 carat gold-bordered porcelain in the French Limoges tradition . . . Colonial American bas-relief pewter . . . Cloisonné, with enamelling applied by master Chinese artisans . . . lovely blue and white porcelain in the cherished Dutch Delft tradition.

You'd have to search the world to build a collection as beautiful and fascinating as this. Yet you can acquire the entire collection complete with the collector cabinet shown here from Franklin Mint. To bring new beauty and harmony into your home you need only post the subscription application. But please be sure to return it by the date it bears.
